

Hi Paul

I just wanted to say thank you once again for your time this morning and for sharing your experience with our school and youth work colleagues here in Manchester.

Your workshop was very powerful and hard hitting and had a huge impact on the audience. We received excellent, positive feedback from attendees who were blown away by the session, some stating that "it's the best training they have attended in a long time" ...very thought provoking and I feel that your story provided a reality check for frontline staff to ensure they are truly listening to children and young people and capturing their voices, whilst providing safe and trusted environments for children and YP to thrive and feel safe.

I had a few schools approach me at the end of the training who would be interested in exploring whether you would be able to deliver your workshop to their school staff team in house.

I'll give you a call next week for a catch up and to discuss, many thanks once again.

Natasha
